"It is a relief to read advice off somebody who is as passionate about this industry as myself, it is difficult to discuss business with other owners as no one wants to divulge any information, so thank-you Rebecca"

"These newsletters keep my mind working, trying to determine which tactics I will use to build my own business. Your newsletter looks so good that I started my own newsletter, using the same type of service where I build a very attractive email with one of their templates. It actually looks very professional as if someone else did it. I have sent only one newsletter so far, and I have had about 10 people book as a result so far (it went out a week ago). I am very delighted with this marketing idea, which I got from you."
